Potatoes provide a wide spectrum of valuable nutrients for the number of calories. Potatoes are not "fattening." For example, 3/4 cup mashed potatoes with milk has only 100 calories, but 1/2 cup creamed cottage cheese has 130 calories, 1 cup of lettuce salad with Italian dressing has 170 calories, 3/4 cup rice has 170 calories. Although potatoes appear to be bulky, they are 80% water, just a little less than milk. Potatoes are economical, convenient and versatile. French's Idaho Spuds Mashed Potatoe Flakes makes using potatoes so easy. Use them for mashed potatoes or in great recipes. There are about 6 pounds of fresh potatoes in every 16 oz. box so you save a lot of mess and peeling. •USE COUPON BELOW•
GOLDEN POTATO CASSEROLE
1¼ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup milk
⅛ teaspoon ground turmeric
2 cups French's Idaho Spuds Mashed Potato Flakes
1 package (3-oz.) cream cheese, cut into cubes (room temperature)
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons chopped green onions
3 tablespoons diced pimiento
Bring water and salt to boil in medium-size saucepan. Remove from heat. Stir in milk and turmeric. Add potato flakes. When liquid is absorbed, add cream cheese, Parmesan cheese, green onions, and pimiento. Stir lightly to combine. Spoon into greased 1-quart casserole. Bake at 350° for 40 to 50 minutes until lightly browned. 6 servings.
Note: Potatoes may be preapred ahead and refrigerated, covered, until ready to bake.

Thinking out loud . . . .

The Boy Scouts of America has been emphasizing its Explorer program in Lackawanna County. Recently, Stephen T. Emick was hired by the Forest Lakes Council as the new Explorer executive. The regional Boy Scout Council now has 18 Explorer Posts in Lackawanna, Wayne, and parts of Susquehanna, Pike and Wyoming Counties. Exploring is the co-ed division of the Boy Scouts of America offering a program to 14 through 20 year olds in the community. Explorer Posts offer young men and women an opportunity to learn more about specific professions, Law, medicine, photography, and aviation are typical career interests of Explorers. Currently there are no Explorer Posts in Carbondale, Mayfield, Jermyn, or Simpson....

We had a letter from J. Morris suggesting that the NEWS sponsor a snow sculpture contest some day in late March. We considered the idea, but decided that it would be too difficult for us to judge, since the sculptures would be scattered throughout the city. We barely have time to put out a weekly newspaper and simply don't have time to visit each snow creation.....

Speaking of newspaper problems, we thought we needed a new flash tube (a fancy lightbulb) for one of our typesetting machines. The bulb is about the size of a typical flash cube for a camera. We were shocked at the price — $208.00. That's right, over $200 for a light bulb! Fortunately, we discovered that our problem involved a less expensive cure....

Did everybody take advantage of the "hot" weather we had last week? When the mercury rose into the 60's it felt like a heat wave. A couple of months of weather like that and some of the ice may disappear.....

What do you think of the new garbage fee in Carbondale? At last glance, Freddy's Refuse, the city's contracted garbage hauler, was owed about $10,000 for services rendered. Wouldn't it be something if he refused to collect the garbage at the same time we got hit with a $40 garbage tax?....

We noticed Carbondale Area High School students trying to ford their way through the lake at the entrance to Ames Plaza. Every time it rains or when we get a major snow melt, that section of Brooklyn Street gets flooded. It's bad enough that there are no sidewalks for the students to walk on; the water makes pedestrian travel really miserable!....

The Carbondale Street Department did a fine job of chopping the ice away from the storm sewers and the major intersection crosswalks. Keep up the good work, guys!....

A lot of people at the last Carbondale City Council meeting couldn't understand why Council was proposing to increase taxes and at the same time lay off people from the street department. "You're asking us to pay more while you give us less service," one man said. Council would be wise to use a public relations spokesman who can explain complex matters in laymen's terms. What Council meant was: If we lay off street department workers and economize in other areas, we should be able to pay all the expenses incurred in 1984 without a tax increase. However, we have to pay off a $600,000 debt, we have to raise more money. Obviously we don't get any additional benefits for the tax increase. We're just paying for the goods and services that were purchased (on credit) in previous years. We don't like it any more than you do, but what else can we do? There is simply no way to pay the old bills and the current bills without getting more money! If we don't lay off the street department personnel we will have to raise taxes even more!....

Most area Catholics have mixed emotions about Bishop John J. O'Connor being appointed by the Pope to head the Archdiocese of New York. Bishop O'Connor succeeded Bishop McCormick on June 30 as head of the Scranton Diocese and appeared at a variety of church functions in the Carbondale area. While area residents are sad to lose Bishop O'Connor as their prelate, they are honored that their diocese was selected to host the most influential archdiocese in the United States....

building project. The project, which is scheduled for completion in late 1984, consists of a three story structure with the replacement of 58 beds, a new dietary department, heating, air-conditioning and ventilating systems, a new lobby and a link to the present hospital. Also included in the plan is a one-day, or ambulatory, surgery center. In the photo, ground preparation is being completed and the site readied for construction of the foundation.

Learning about Social Security now can help in the years ahead

"Every year about this time I try to remind people that considering what their Social Security rights and responsibilities ought to be included in their New Year's resolutions," Richard Oleschak, Social Security manager in Carbondale said recently. This is because Social Security not only has great potential for improving the quality of their life in retirement years, but can make a difference if they become disabled or die.

People who know about Social Security are able to plan for their retirement more effectively and provide for financial security for their family during their working years with greater peace of mind.

To help you get on the right track for the coming year, I offer the following suggestions for New Year's resolutions that may make a difference in your Social Security protection:

- Find out what Social Security provides. Many people think of the program as just a retirement program. But, it also provides survivors and disability benefits as well as Medicare benefits. Not knowing the full scope of Social Security may result in late applications and risks loss of benefits.

- Get an estimate of your future benefit. The Social Security office can give you an estimate of what your benefits will be at age 65, or if your become disabled, and to your family if you should die. It is not possible to project benefits accurately for younger workers but you may get an idea about the level of your future benefits. This information will be valuable in planning your retirement and your family life and disability insurance needs.

- Check your earnings records in Social Security records. We generally suggest that people check the earnings credited to their Social Security record every 3 years. This is especially important for people who change jobs often. The earnings record is the basis for determining eligibility for benefits and benefit amounts.

- Know when to contact Social Security. Generally there are five times when a person should call Social Security. They are when someone in the family dies, when someone in the family becomes disabled, when someone in the family develops permanent kidney disease, when someone in the family retires, and at 2 or 3 months before 65 if you don't retire.

- Know the best times to call the Social Security office. To assure you don't get caught up in the peak traffic, you should call the Social Security office during the later half of the month, later during the week and in the afternoon.

These are just a few things Oleschak said, you can take to get you started thinking about you Social Security protection. Believe me, you'll find that you'll begin to view the tax deducted from your paycheck a great deal differently once you get the facts on Social Security.

More information about Social Security can be obtained at the Carbondale Social Security office, located at 15 S. Main St. The telephone number is 282-6900.
